FOREWORD

Most of us accept with little, if any thought, the beautiful pictures in natural color appearing in publications.

The inquisitive mind, however, may give more than casual attention to the origin and method of reproducing these beautiful pictures.

Space here does not permit an explanation of photography and its development, from the daguerreotype to the present natural color photography.

It is hoped, however, that the pages of the Latipac this year will be found more interesting by reason of the many photographs reproduced, and that the enthusiasm of the students will be increasingly evident regarding both amateur and commercial photography.

The Staff presents the 1937 Latipac as their tribute to those who have developed modern photography and to the students and faculty of Broughton High in appreciation of their cooperation and interest in amateur photography.

THE SCHOOL

Because we love him and appreciate all the many things he has done for this high school and to express our high esteem for one who has by his infinite modesty and consistency endeared himself to us, we of the Senior Class wish for him the joys of continued achievement, friendships, and years of service, and dedicate this volume of the Latipac to that son of Kentucky, that fine gentleman, inspiring teacher, and profound scholar

SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

On the eve of graduation, the 150 boys and girls who comprise the class of 1937 can look back on a most interesting stage of events. We have seen the curtain rise and fall on many projects. We trust that we have not been merely spectators, but instead, co-workers in each and every one of these projects. Many of our undertakings have been successful; some have failed, but through it all we have taken it as we should.

Throughout our five years in Needham Broughton High School we have tried to take advantage of the opportunities that have been afforded us by the Capital City of North Carolina. Having been able to study in one of the most beautiful buildings in the state has also added to the happiness of these five years.

Each year we have selected a president from our large number and each time we have been most fortunate in choosing a person possessing qualities of fine leadership. We have been urged onward and upward by their splendid efforts. In our Sub-Freshman year, we elected Archie Brown; in the Freshman year, Jack Copeland; in our Sophomore year, Ben Park; and in our two closing years we elected Tom Brogan and Everette Carter presidents of our class, respectively. We owe much to these five boys who have served the class of 1937 and Broughton High School as a whole.

Our class has entered most whole heartedly into the various extra-curricular activities such as dramas, science, languages, music, debating, and many others. We consider these outside activities of the utmost importance to us. We have learned the value and pleasure of working together. We feel that this will be very helpful to us long after we have left high school. Along with these activities should be mentioned our Student Council, which has been led during our Senior year by Jimmy Walker. This group has been working steadfastly and earnestly in an effort to make the school an even more pleasant place in which to work.

One of the most important factors which have contributed to our success at Broughton High School has been the acknowledgment of the importance of entertainment. We have sponsored many dances, teas, and other things of that nature. Among these were very successful entertainments which were given in our Sub-Freshman, Freshman, and Sophomore years. During our Junior year we entertained the Seniors at a very brilliant Junior-Senior dance with music by Jimmy Poyner and his famous collegians. During each day, mingled with our seriousness and work, we have had plenty of fun. Indeed, this has lightened every burden and undertaking.

We have been very successful in athletics. However, there have been some defeats. One point that has stood out with the Class of '37 has been our enthusiasm and good sportsmanship in athletics; even when Raleigh High School was defeated.

One of the most outstanding events of our Senior year was the presentation of the Senior Play, "Quality Street," which was a most outstanding success. The scene was laid during the Napoleonic wars. Henry Jenkins and Virginia Richardson starred among a large cast. It was acclaimed a great success.

We do not want to close our history without recognition of probably the most important influence on every boy and girl in the Senior Class—the instructors who through their patient and steadfast efforts have helped us over many of the rough places. Many thanks are extended to them all.

And now as the time draws near for us to don our cap and gown, a bit of sadness creeps into our history. We realize that we are about to leave the happiest part of our lives—the time we spent at dear old Needham Broughton, but the time has come when we must climb out into the world; and so we say "Farewell," and part from Broughton forever.

LAWRENCE BLANCHARD, Historian.

THE SENIOR CLASS PROPHECY

ST. AUGUSTINE COUNTRY CLUB
St. Augustine, Fla.

Dear Henry:

May 19, 1953.

At last the National Open Championship is under way. Many of our old class of 1937 are down here to witness one of the greatest golf tournaments ever staged. Such notables as W. T. Martin and Sam J. Morris (senators, but better known to us all as "Hammerhead") are on hand. Sam tells me that Henry Jenkins has finally married and that he and his wife are going to live on a ranch in Wyoming. W. T. tells me that Irene McAfee, Jeanne Dozier, and Mary Green Thiem all married multi-millionaires. I guess they can stop worrying about where the next fur coat is coming from.

Henry, remember how J. M. Jenrette was accused of letting grass grow under his feet? Well, now J. M. is president of the largest lawn mower company in America.

Lawrence Blanchard is a German professor at Duke while his friend Edwin Pou backs him up as the chemistry head. By the way, I heard from Ben Park yesterday. He tells me that he and William Morris have finally decided to go into the chicken business, where they hope they will find much success. Ben also said that Van Buren was becoming a city of great excitement since Mayard Alford and Billy Kennedy had gained control of all the night clubs. Ben mentioned the fact the Bickett Webb and Ray Southern are rapidly becoming popular in Hollywood for their excellent barnyard imitations. I surely hope they all become famous some day.

After the match is over we hope to come visit you. Please give my love to all the family, and especially your youngest child.

Best wishes,

CARL.

SALEM COUNTRY CLUB
Salem, Mass.

Dear Carl:

May 23, 1953.

Am so sorry that you and the wife can't visit us. But I will keep in touch with you by mail. Bill Campbell and Everette Carter, Broadway's latest heart throbs, are visiting me this week. Campbell tells me that Carter was a little nervous when he played his latest love scene with Hollywood's lovable Charlotte Ulrich.

By the way, Jake, remember Jimmy Sinclair? Well, he's got a job shimmying milk shakes at Salem's new Walgreen. Sinclair said it was a good idea to put his shanking to use. I thoroughly agreed with him.

Carter tells me that Tom Cain and Bill Vaughn are owners of rival clothing stores in the heart of New York. I hope the best dressed wins.

Paul "Babe" Wood was arrested last week for his bold attempt to ho'd up and rob the slot machine magnet, Warren Ferguson. Our two reliable cops, Billy Ellington and Robert Garrison, made the arrest. Ransom Austin, editor of the Chitterling Switch Gazette, was on hand to get full credit for the amazing story. It was the greatest story since Andrew Beck's sizzling round of '76.

By the way, Walter Williams, the hot dog king, tells me that Ethel Comer is the head dress modeler for Dan Hodges' new women's clothing establishment. He also tells me that Joe Flythe and Bill Hicks take quite a number of sea voyages these days. Water said he knew there was something fishy about them. They always did like to hook somebody.

Here's to our niblick shots.

Best wishes,

HENRY.

ST. AUGUSTINE COUNTRY CLUB
St. Augustine, Fla.

Dear Henry:

May 28, 1953.

I was so glad to get your letter the other day. Quite a few things have happened since then. One of the most important happenings was the good fortune that Bill Bolton had in securing such a lovable wife as Rose Martin. Bill is still connected with the sanitary department of the city. Bill, by the way, has been promoted to vice president.

By the way, Bil told me that Edwin Price, editor of the Philadelphia Record, gave Lewis Williams' new book, That Manly Beauty, quite a big boosting last week. We all think that Lewis is one of the greatest writers of the present day.

Henry, I have been thinking a lot lately about these letters we have been writing. Most everything we've said has concerned some member of the class of 1937, so I think it would be a good idea to talk about the class as a whole. How about it?

Isaac Wright, the greatest plumber of the day, got his start from smoking corn cob pipes. He has a very able assistant known to us all as Colvin Worth. As plumbers they are piping hot.

Faison Charlton and B. W. Kenyon are singing now with Leslie Mincey and his orchestra. They are making a tour of the world. After other countries hear them, we know they will agree with us in our belief that they are truly great singers.

Henry, it sure does bring back old memories exchanging news like this.

I am expecting a letter soon.

Best wishes,

CARL.

SALEM COUNTRY CLUB
Salem, Mass.

Dear Carl:

June 2, 1953.

I think your idea of discussing the old Senior Class as a whole is a very good idea. You spoke the truth when you said that it brings back old memories.

Speaking of insurance, Warren Rock collected $25,000 the other day when his golden hair was singed by a big cigar smoked by the new bank president, Bob Peatross. Peatross who has become a bit near-sighted thought that someone was waving at him across the office.

Posey Barbour, Anne McGrady, and Dorothy Perry seem to be doing right well as three of the smartest make-up artists in Hollywood. They say they can make up anything from biscuits to beds. It's a shame Robert Taylor married and settled down.

Henry, I read in Edwin Price's paper the other day that Norman Litchfield, that heroic fire chief from Raleigh, has married that witty Alice Ligon. Alice married him because he proved that where there is smoke there is fire. Alice is also fond of fire trucks.

Jimmie Walker and Betty Hunt have surely proved to us that they can dance like Fred Astaire and Eleanor Powell once did. I honestly believe that they will take these veterans' places on the dance floor of America.

Carl, while Virginia and I were talking the other day, we thought how nice it would be if we could all be together once again. That Senior Class of '37 was swell, and we had lots of fun. Now we are all out in the world fighting our own. In a way it's hard to realize, but nevertheless it's true.

Well, Jake, we are coming down sometimes in October. Will see you then, if not before.

Best wishes,

HENRY.

Student Council

The theme for the Student Council this year has been "To keep our school life on a higher plane of thinking and acting," with special emphasis on honesty and courtesy. Throughout the entire year the members have endeavored to awaken in the other students a realization of the seriousness of the extent of dishonesty in our school and to take upon themselves the responsibility for remedying this situation. Several chapel programs with outside speakers have helped present this problem to the students. Another major project was the publishing of the second edition of the Student Handbook. The third, was the installing of a moving-picture machine in the auditorium. This is to be used for entertainment during lunch periods two days a week and for educational pictures shown for various groups.

Forensics

Annual interest is aroused in debating by many students of Broughton High School. Sponsored each year by the Josephus Daniels Literary Society, this phase of activity, under the capable supervision of Miss Helen Runnion, is quickly taking its place among the important factors of the school.

This year's team selected to compete in the state triangular debates was composed of W. T. Martin and William Morris on the affirmative, Lura Self and Charles Barrett on the negative, and Mary Sue Jackson and Dan Hodges as alternates.

The query: Resolved, "That the Government Should Own and Operate all Electric Light and Power Utilities," was chosen for two important reasons: first, it is a current question before the American people; and second, because it is a question that is balanced with commendable points for both sides.

A large number of students participated in preliminary debates on the topic in February prior to the selection of the team. Needham Broughton won the Aycock Memorial Cup in 1933 and each year has had outstanding teams.

ATHLETICS

BOXING

Prospects were bright, contrary to the outlook of the other athletic teams, when Raleigh's 1937 boxing season opened—only a small number of the preceding year's team had graduated.

But it was still going to be a job for the Raleigh Golden Bears to repeat as State champs, for Allan Nelms had resigned and they would be under a new tutor. This made the odds heavy against the local pugs from the very start.

Jimmy Gerow was selected as the boxing coach with Firpo Hipps serving as the assistant. Gerow came from Wakelon High School, where he had served as athletic head, coaching all of the major sports of that school. Hipps is a retired Southern Middleweight champion.

The season opened with a bang, Raleigh defeating Durham by a score of 6-3. From then until the local outfit journeyed to Fayetteville it was smooth sailing—then came the only mar on the Bears' record for a four-year period—Fayetteville took them for a 6-2 setback.

Instead of making the Raleigh boys give up, it seemed to give them a real fighting spirit and the next opponent—Charlotte went down in defeat 5-4. Ed Smith tallied the final point with a kayo.

Two weeks elapsed and the State tournament began at Chapel Hill. Raleigh emerged from the semi-finals with 7 points and three boys in the finals, making their chances of another State championship even greater. No other team had more than 5 points.

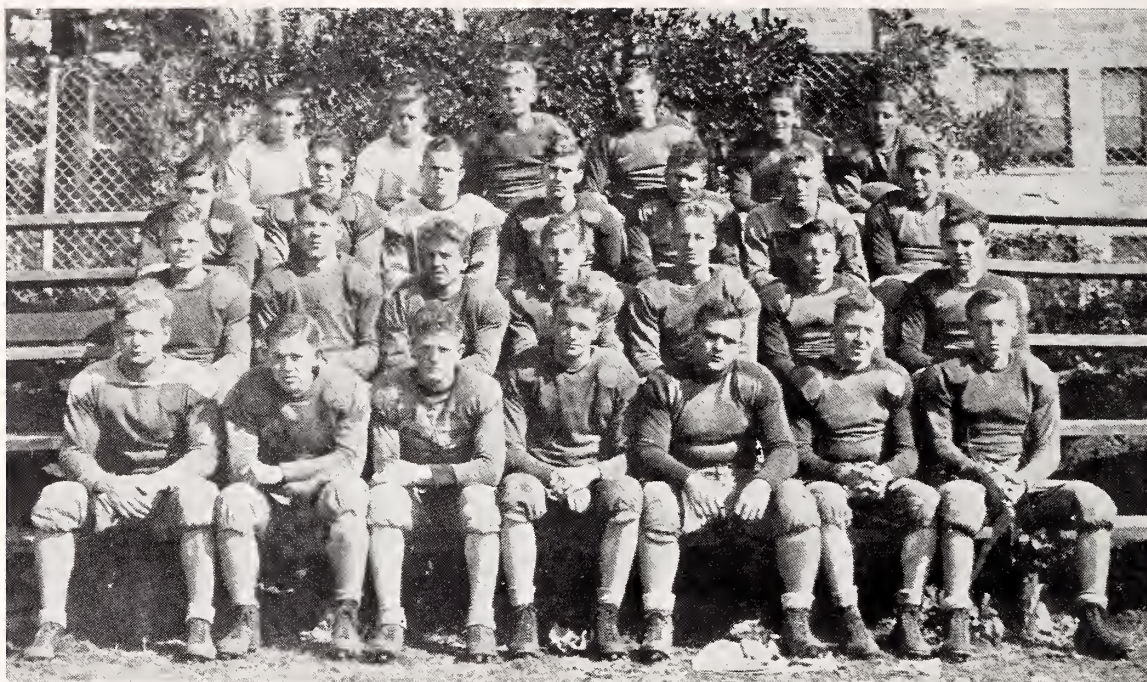

Two of the three boys—L. M. Dodd and Clifton Wright—won their fights and set Raleigh's score at 9 and the winner of the fourth consecutive championship. Bos Beckwith lost his bout by a close decision.

But there was still something that the Raleigh team wanted—that was revenge. Fayetteville was scheduled to come to Raleigh but the Bears were unable to get their revenge. Fayetteville tied the Raleigh outfit 4-4.

And the curtain came down on another successful boxing season in Raleigh's high schools.

FOOTBALL

Hopes were somewhat dark as fall practice opened for Raleigh's high school Purple Hurricane football machine, but as time passed the squad began to take shape and things were forecast much brighter.

Coach Gregson arranged a non-conference game with Campbell College to open the 1936 season. The Raleigh lads came through, defeating the Camels 12-0.

The next engagement found the Raleigh team confronted with a different type of obstacle—that of rain plus a scheduled foe. Fayetteville brought a much stronger outfit to the Capital City than had been anticipated by the coaches and commentators and the Hurricanes worked hard to earn a 12-0 decision. Bobby Miller, Captain Will Smith, and Wiley Bullock were the stars.

Night football games for high schools are unusual in North Carolina. This had not been undertaken in Raleigh until the Purple Hurricane footballers announced their homecoming game with Columbia, S. C. would be played in Riddick Stadium—an evening engagement.

This game was Raleigh's outstanding game. Rain began early in the day and many predicted that the game would be postponed but a short while before the kick off the rain stopped. Raleigh won the event by a score of 7-0—starring Bobby Miller. Miller returned a punt for some 40 yards.

Sanford provided the opposition for Raleigh's next engagement. The final scoring going on the books as 40-0.

As the time drew near for Raleigh to meet Durham the local fans and supporters began to be a little uneasy. El Toro park had held a jinx on Raleigh football teams for years but the jinx was broken—the Hurricanes had blown up a 6-0 victory.

With this victory tucked away, the next problem facing the Capital City team was that of conquering Rocky Mount and thus elenching the Eastern Class A Title. The 26-19 score told the tale. Raleigh had won the Eastern Class A Championship for the second consecutive year.

And with colors flying high the Hurricanes planned to march on to Chapel Hill and take the State Title. Charlotte represented the west.

There they met—and Raleigh got the surprise of a life-time. Charlotte was ready and waiting and with no discussion defeated the Hurricanes 13-7. The hand of fate played an important part in this event. Raleigh in every sense of the word outplayed the Queen City boys, though the score did not show it.

That memorable day brought to a close Raleigh's 1936 gridiron season.

BASKETBALL

Basketball did not offer many thrills for the fans this past season in the way of victories but Raleigh's high schools were well represented by the boys who composed this team.

Things got off to a slow start and the hand of fate held a good lead throughout the season. Raleigh lost its first engagement to Rocky Mount and thereafter it was one defeat after another until near the end of the season.

Wilson came to Raleigh with the idea that the Capital City boys would be easy but instead were sent home with their tail between their legs and a score of 25-13 in favor of Raleigh hanging over their head.

Durham ended the schedule of the Hurricanes by defeating them 30-19. Durham also accounted for one of the earlier defeats of the season that were chalked up against the local boys.

Charlie Jordan, Paul Wood and Will Smith were among the leading performers for the local hardwood team this year.

BASEBALL

Practice was begun for the 1937 Raleigh high school baseball team early in March. Five veterans of last year's State championship team were on hand along with thirty-five recruits who were resolved to do their best for the 10-game schedule. Tutoring the diamond men was Coach S. O. Brandon, who had replaced Allen Nelms. Mr. Brandon was formerly head coach of baseball at Campbell College where he made an enviable record.

The first test of the boys was on March 19, and they were victorious over Fayetteville 18-1. The Caps collected twenty-two hits, made four errors. Jimmy Smith did the hurling and fanned seventeen. Next the Rocky Mount Blackbirds fell before the steadily-clicking locals to the tune of a 13-6 score. Smith again did the moundwork. On March 27 the Capitals were defeated for the second time in three years. South River high school of New Jersey administered the loss. The following Friday Raleigh was set back by Greenville 13-10. With Pitcher Jimmy Smith out with a sore arm, Everette Carter, who previously had played at the receiving end of the battery, was moved to the mound.

Regulars of last year's team back were Jimmy Smith, pitcher; Everette Carter, catcher; Johnny Walters, second baseman; Charlie Jordan, short stop; and Paul Wood, outfielder. Recruits who had almost cinched positions were Billy Vaughn at first, Henry Jenkins at center field, and Charles Goodno in right field. Third base was a half-way proposition between C. D. Ferrell and Johnny Riddle. Reserve pitchers were Renfrow Doak, Arthur Edwards, Preacher Weeks, and Alec Vestal. Top substitutes were Buddy Murray, catcher; Jack Holt, first; Milton Zelen and Bobby Miller, outfielders.

GOLF

The golf team this year was composed of six seasoned players and the same personnel, though in different positions, that suffered only one defeat last year.

The high spots of last season were games played between the Raleigh team and teams of Greensboro, High Point, Sanford, Fayetteville, and Durham, the only defeat being handed them by the Durham foursome.

Coach Gregson reports improvement in the qualifying scores and has hopes for an undefeated team in 1937. The following members compose the team in the order of their position and their qualifying scores: Poole, 305; Beck, 315; Casper, 321; Bowden, 325; Dillon, 336; Williamson, 361.

A series of highly competitive matches are being arranged with the best high school teams of the state and there are expectations of a victory for Raleigh when the finals close at Chapel Hill.

As the book goes to press two 1937 important matches have been won against Greensboro and Durham by overwhelming scores. In the latter game Beck and Bowden carded 75's for low medal for the season to date.

SWIMMING

"Rich"

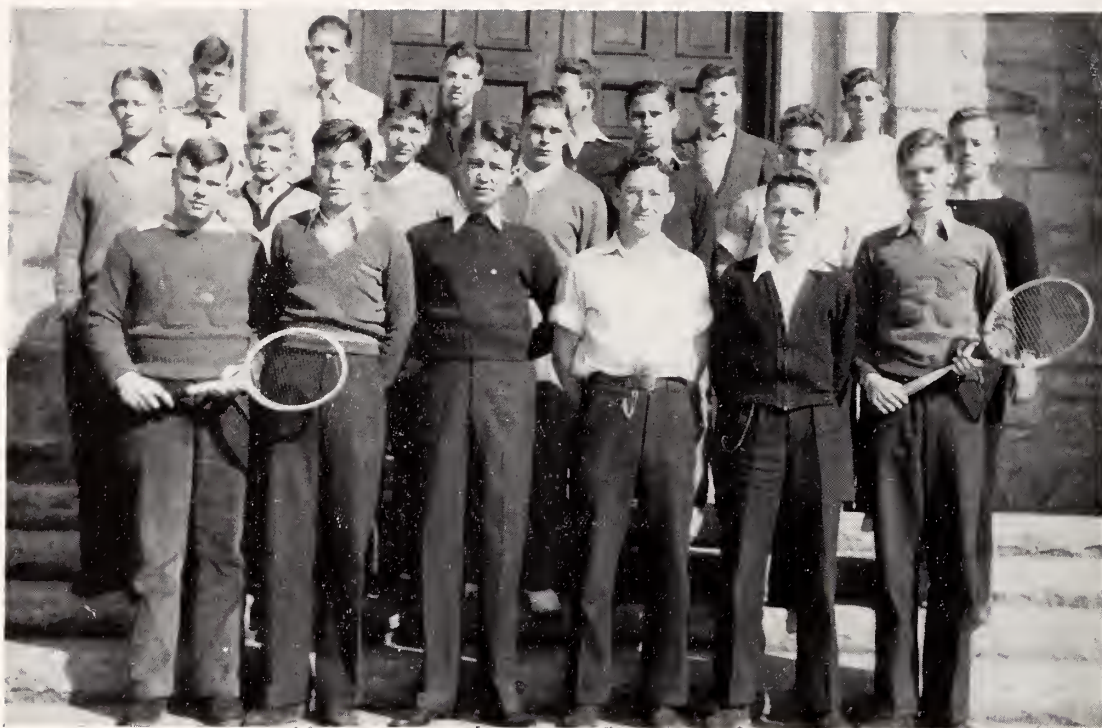

Raleigh's high school sports world was increased this year by a regular swimming team which entered a schedule dual meets with other schools. The team met with some success but had to compete with squads with several years experience.

TRACK

A popular addition to Raleigh's high school sports this year was a regular track team. In previous years the Capitals had entered the Annual State tourney but had never entered a schedule of dual meets with other high schools.

TENNIS

Raleigh's high school tennis team aroused much more interest among the local junior netmen this year than in preceding years. About twenty-five boys reported for first practices and the team had good prospects from the first.

JUNIOR FOOTBALL

Raleigh's junior high school gridders were under tutelage of a new coach for the 1937 season. Jimmy Gerow, former State College athlete and also formerly head coach of athletics at Wakelon high school, had stepped into the shoes left by John Finlator. The locals were inexperienced and hard luck followed them most of the season.

Backfield work was carried on by Doak, Rhenn, Johnson, Honeycutt, and Ferguson. Zelen, Layton, Jones, Oliver, Berry, Whebie, and Fletcher were outstanding in the line.

LIFE

Well it snowed and here we have it the morning after—on the right, a view of the front of the school—and then a camera was set in some grass and snapped and we got the grass and a little of the building through the grass dark— a northwest corner of the building—the tower—“I pledge Allegiance”—the building from 200 yards—Broughton in the snow—on unusual view of the tower.

Here we have a few of the seniors. We wanted them all, but they wouldn't all pose. Virginio Richardson looks pleased about something; a few of the girls as dignified seniors; another senior; Bobby Taylor Williams; then to the left again, Dan Hodges proposes; Lillian Horward tries to look funny; Tom Cain, the bookworm; the Hi-Y initiates; J. M. enjoys his smoke—at Pat's; Sue on a milk truck; Jocqueline Prevost; Annette Bridges, alias Garbo; Miss Hicks gets foot conscious; some more—all the spoce we hove!

The senior classes of 1935-36 bought a flogpole for Broughton and Dillon Supply erected it. Billy Siddell and John Young photographed every move, missing nothing, you see. The guide pole is put up; going up to look it over. Now follow it carefully from right to left and you shall know how to put up a flogpole yourself sometime. Notice the sturdy stone foundation as Mr. Freeman did—and Mr. Shaw. Up with the flag!—a gift from the American Legion. Broughton students, 1,000 strong on a windy day. Lower Aft, the flag at the top; the clock from the inside; the tower again, prayer in chapel; o Broughton Monkey wropped himself around the flogpole.

The year 1935-36 was filled with plenty of news for Broughton and the revised "Hi-Times" caught it all. Mr. Shaw cooperated to the last degree and 500 subscribed to the paper; Annette Bridges started a column in the "Raleigh Times"; Mr. Starnes put out a football program; the school carnival made money; Edwin Perry was the leading newspaper man; another handbook; the Hurricanes won the Eastern Carolina trophy; Jenkins was the lover; Mr. Gerow put out a championship boxing team; the forum section; and the Latipac went to press. Well, look over 1936-37!

Now, from left to right, we see Nell Walker Bell stringing Walter Williams and Ed Pou; Miss Fitzgerald at work; Bobby Miller brags about that run he made at Woke Forest; Broughton in the roin; Mr. Show, photographer—look ot Martin; Over at Pat's, "Hammerhead" Morris takes a look; Mr. Shaw, interior decorator; Louise Scott; President leads in prayer; over ot Pat's; The "Hi-Times" stand; over at Pot's again; "Blindmon" Gregson; Mr. Starnes at work; Warren Ferguson; Mr. Free-mon, Freeman and Freeman; in the Chemistry lob; Editor Price; Debater Martin; Mrs. Wells; Looking over a "Hi-Times."

Latipac scrap page. But it is not so bad as it looks at first glance. Look at Harry Way! Bet your picture is on this page, too. Well, there is Broughton from the air—five years ago! Mr. Greenwood working! Dan Hodges has beautiful legs; Mr. Shaw at a football game; Miss Kirkpatrick as "Thought"! Helen Bobbitt in "It Happened One Night." The Freeman smile; Carl Marshburn makes a sale. We shall let you figure the rest out for yourself. We hope you liked it.

Best of Luck. Old Class

*T*HE TEMPO of progress in the electrical industry has been increasingly rapid. Constant improvement in the generation, distribution and utilization of electricity has marked the swift passing of the years. Coöperation of utility engineers with electrical appliance manufacturers has brought about vast improvements in the familiar applications of electricity to home and industry. New and ingenious applications, in constant development, serve to widen its field of usefulness.

Long accepted as the ideal servant, electricity is bringing new economies in time, fuel and power to the myriad processes it serves. In the home, electricity has changed the living habits of the homemaker and her family. Through its use, industry has reached new heights of efficiency.

A most touching scene took place at the prison the other day.
A prisoner was about to be electrocuted and his last wish was that the warden hold his hand.

Cathryne Spain: I was historical with laughter.
Nell Bell: You mean hysterical.
Cathryne: No I don't. I laughed for ages and ages.

Referee: Clifton, you look like a million tonight.
Clifton: No, mister, I'm only nineteen.

Minister: Do you take this man for better or worse?
Black Bride: No suh, I takes him jes' as he is. If he gets any better he'll die; and if he gets any worse, ah'll kill him mahself.

Dealer: When are you going to pay for that electric washing machine I sold you?
Lady: Pay for it? Why you said in a short while it would pay for itself.

(1927): So you're lost, little man? Why didn't you hang onto your mother's skirt?
Youngster: Couldn't reach it.

Statistics show that few people with St. Vitus can eat peas with a knife.

Mrs. Jones: Mary, how do you tell an old chicken from a young one?
Mary: By the teeth.
Mrs. Jones: How silly! Chickens have no teeth.
Mary: No, but I have.

Jimmy S.: How did you like that cigar I gave you. For 200 bands off that brand of smokes they'll give you a radio.

Marvin S.: You don't say! If I smoked 200 of those cigars I wouldn't want a radio! I'd need a harp.

BUILDERS DREAMS

VISIONS created by the imagination precede the achievement of any really great accomplishment. The ability to weave the threads of imagination into the finished fabric is equally important.

It has been the privilege of the EDWARDS & BROUGHTON COMPANY to cooperate with the staff in creating their vision into material form.

Such coöperation is one of the "visions" which precede the building of a successful business, and is a part of the working policy of the EDWARDS & BROUGHTON COMPANY.

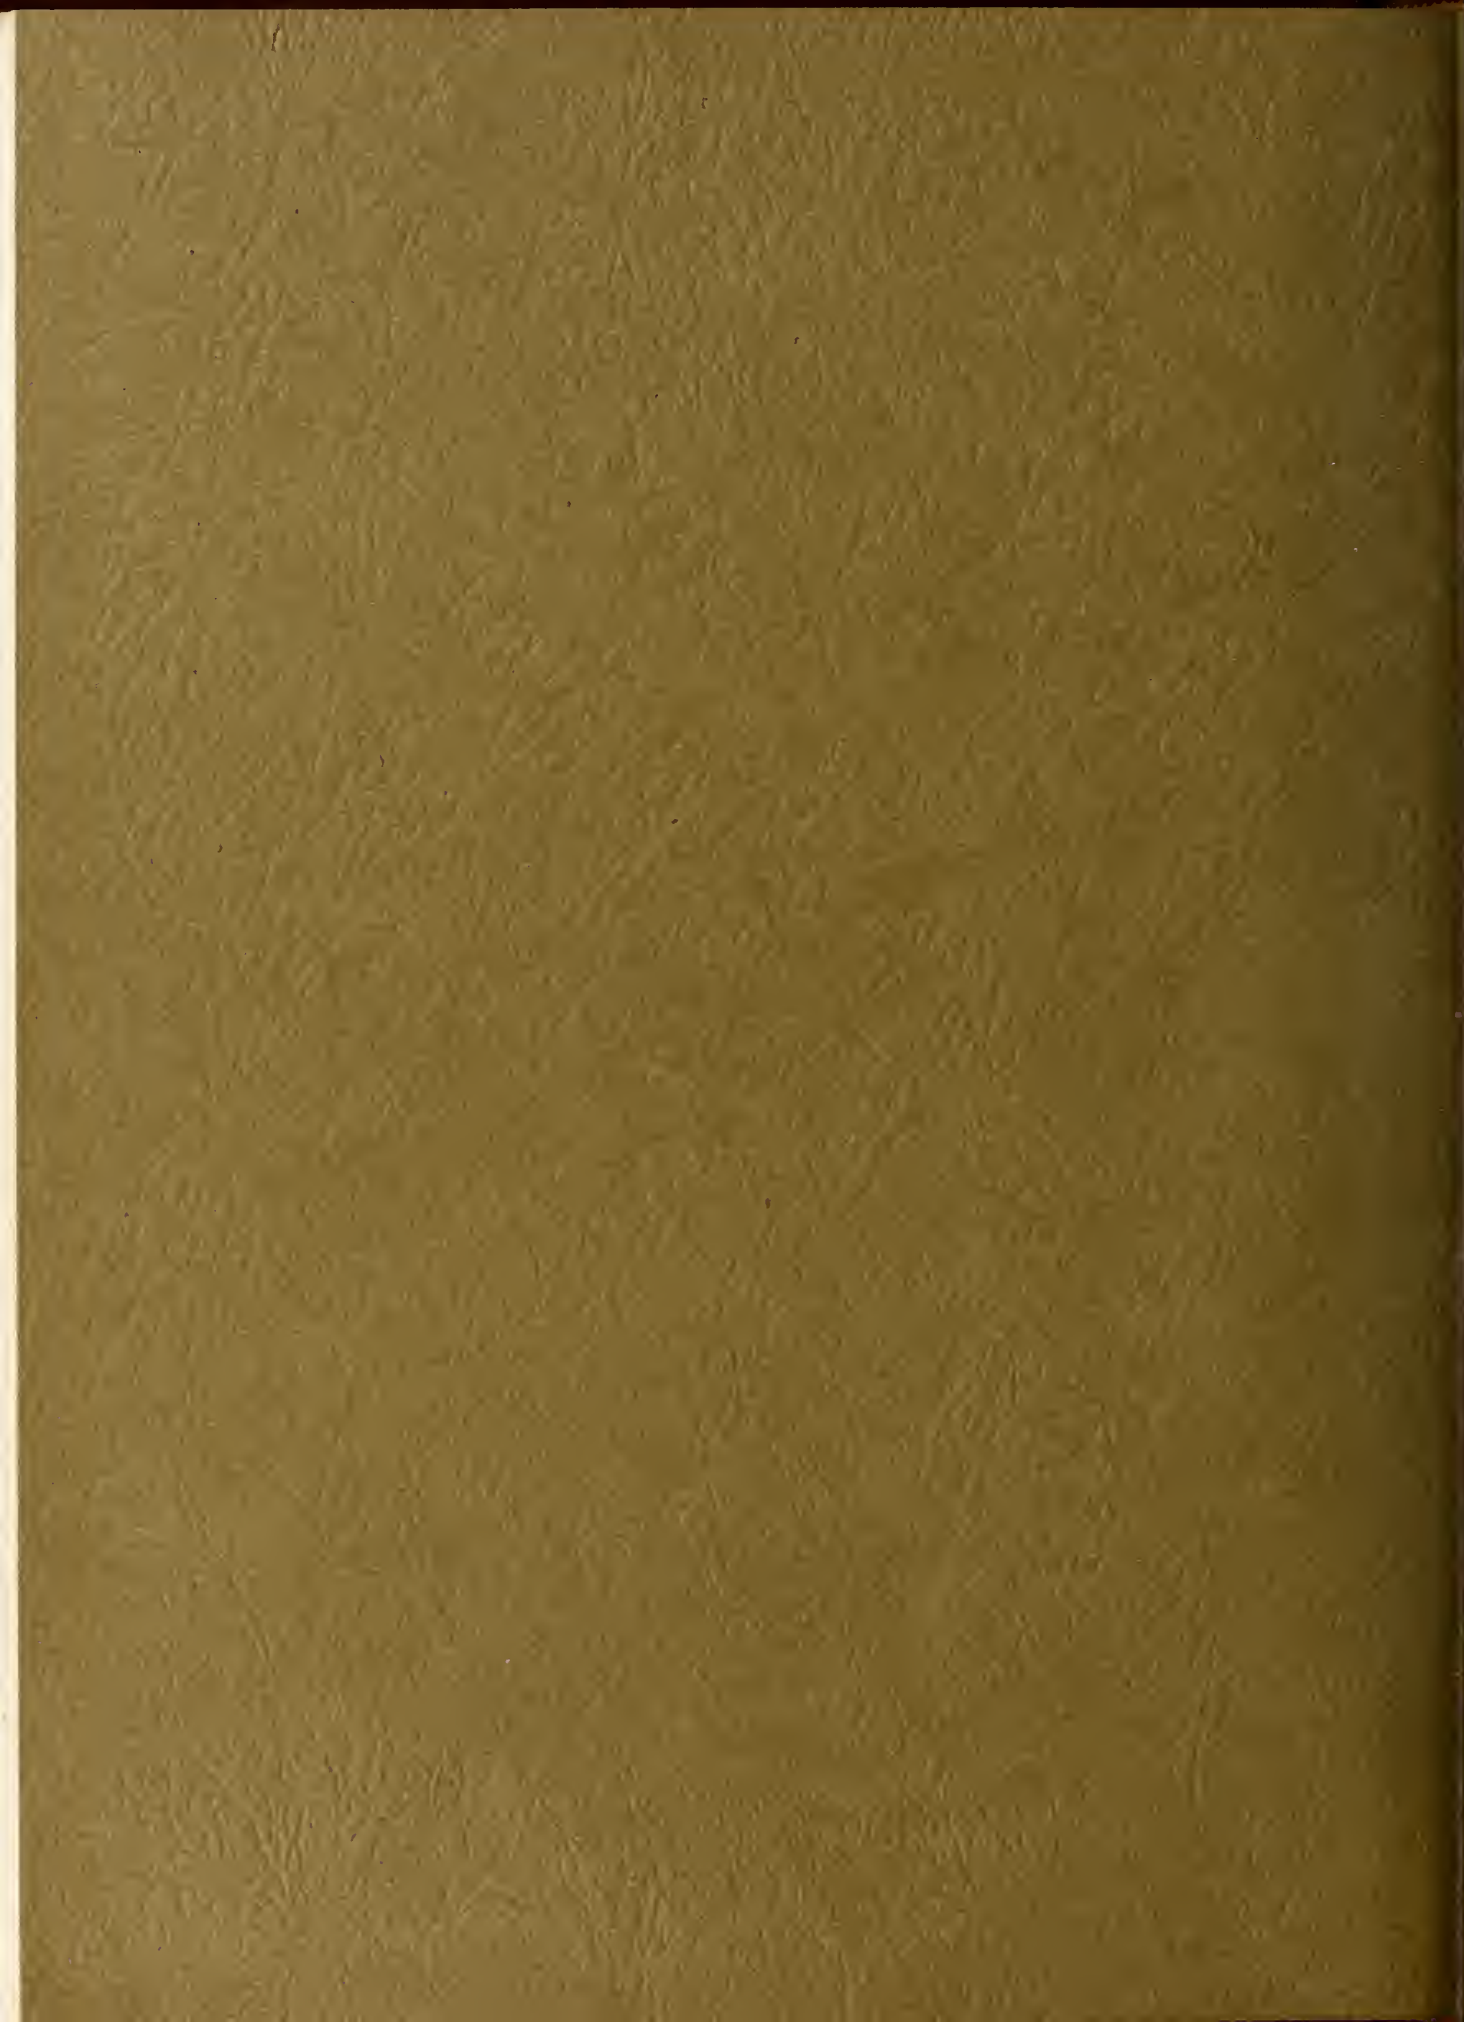

To those Staffs desiring complete co-operation, we offer unexcelled service.

You, too, may be proud of your annual.
